Nottingham City Council Act 2003 – Occasional Sales

Record of Attendance – multiple entries – to be completed by sales organiser or his/her representative

The Nottingham City Council Act 2003 came into force on 1st April 2004 and requires holders of occasional sales to record all sellers who attend.
It is a criminal offence to record false information. Those who intentionally provide false details could be prosecuted and are liable on conviction to a max. fine of £2500.

DATE OF EVENT: ..... LOCATION: ..... SHEET NO.: ..... OF .....

NAME	ADDRESS	POSTCODE	VEHICLE REGISTRATION (Used to transport the goods to the sale)	GOODS (New or second-hand or both)

N.B. If the seller is a registered dealer in second-hand goods, you may record his or her registration number (found on the certificate of registration) instead of the above details.